ADA, OKLAHOMA, SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 5, 1908

NUMBER 134

SENSATIONAL TRIPPLE KILLING

Hillsboro, Tex., Sept. 4.—The people of Hillsboro were intensely shocked by a tragedy which occurred in the city involving the immediate death of Carl Horne, a well-known young business man of the city, and Dr. J. H. Watson, a prominent oculist and jeweler, and the possibly fatal wounding of Miss Ethel Edsall, a young lady who has been employed for some time past as a night operator in the local telephone exchange of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, all from shots discharged from a pistol in the hands of Dr. Watson, one of the dead.

The affair has created a sensation that has not been equaled in intensity here in many years.

Watson Girl's Kinsman.

Dr. Watson was a half cousin of Miss Edsall, and this morning, as was sometimes his custom, went to the telephone exchange to accompany her on her way home. Young Horne also met her at the exchange, and the three parties left there together about 7:15 o'clock a. m. Miss Edsall having been relieved from duty for the day. When seen going along East Franklin street from the square they were conversing in an apparently agreeable spirit. On reaching the intersection of North Church, Dr. Watson and Miss Edsall separated from Mr. Horne, proceeding north on Church street, which was the usual course of the day in going to her home on Smith street.

When they had gone as far as the northwest corner of Church and Paschal streets the two stopped in front of the house and became engaged in an animated conversation. Dr. Watson especially exhibiting considerable excitement and taking hold of his companion's arm while talking to her. While they were thus occupied Mr. Horne came north on Church street to where they were standing, and when he had nearly reached them, Dr. Watson drew a pistol and discharged it at Miss Edsall twice, one ball striking her under the left shoulder and apparently penetrated downward, lodging against her spinal column. This bullet had been slightly deflected in its course by contact with a corset stay. The second struck her on the outside of her left hand and passed through it, grazing her body and lodging in her clothing.

Kills Horne and Himself.

Watson then turned upon young Horne and discharged one barrel at him, the bullet entering a little below and back of the left shoulder and passing out above the nipple of the right breast. Then turning the pistol upon himself, he fired twice, both bullets entering the right breast near the nipple.

Both men died instantly. Miss Edsall was conveyed into George W. Patterson's residence and physicians summoned to attend her. She was alive at a late hour this evening, but while her condition was at the last account somewhat encouraging, it is still regarded as very critical. She was an exceedingly popular young lady and great interest is felt in the result of her wounds.

Carl Horne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Horne and was reared in the county. He was a young man of fine character and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Dr. Watson had been in business here a number of years and had formed a large circle of friends. He is survived by his widow and two young children, a son and a daughter.

Miss Edsall lived with her mother and brother. She has two other brothers, one of whom lives at Frost and the other in the state of Colorado. She is about 18 years of age. Dr. Watson was 37 and Carl Horne 21 years of age.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS WOMAN

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Walter Allen, wife of the proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, last night shot and almost instantly killed Lillian Wheatly, who lived near the lake, east of the Fort Worth and Denver coal chutes.

The shooting occurred shortly after 11 o'clock, in front of the Wheatly woman's house, while she was seated in a buggy with Allen.

Mrs. Allen had called a cab and had driven to the neighborhood, where she got out, telling the driver to wait for her. As she alighted from the cab the driver saw that she carried a pistol, and as soon as she had stepped a few feet he turned his horses about and started to drive away. Mrs. Allen, however, stopped him when he reached the coal chutes and told him to drive back to the spot where she had alighted.

Mrs. Allen after the shooting said that when she started she took the revolver only to protect herself and not to shoot any one, but lost control of herself when she saw her husband in the buggy with the Wheatly woman. Walking straight to the buggy from the rear, she fired into the woman's side when not more than two feet distant. The bullet entered under the left shoulder blade and passed through the body, lodging under the skin in the right breast.

Mortally wounded, the woman's body, lurched forward over the wheel just as the horse, frightened by the report of the sixshooter, lunged forward and started to run away. The reins had been lying loose over the dashboard, and before Allen could regain them and check the frightened animal it had carried them no little distance.

Within ten minutes after the shooting the woman was dead. When the shot was fired Marshal Gwinn and Officer Jernigan were approaching the house, not forty feet away.

Mrs. Allen was in a high state of delirium from excitement and remained in that condition throughout the night. Being subject to attacks of heart trouble, it was feared that she might succumb, but this morning her condition was said to be better. Last night while being taken to the hotel Mrs. Allen told Marshal Gwinn that she had not realized what she was doing until she had pulled the trigger, and at that instant thought of her children.

A complaint was filed against Mrs. Allen this morning, charging murder. She waived a preliminary hearing and was placed under $1500 bond which was promptly given.

WEST WILL STILL FIGHT CASE

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 4.—Charles J. West, attorney general of Oklahoma, who was recently deprived by the state supreme court of all power to initiate court cases in the name of the state without first securing the consent of Gov. Haskell, will refuse to accept as final the decision of the supreme court that the attorney general, an elective officer, is merely a factotum of the governor, and will file in the state supreme court a petition for a rehearing of the case, which is permissible under the rules of the court. If the court refuses a rehearing, or holds against West in a rehearing, West is prepared to appeal to the federal court.

Without denying the fact that the state supreme court's interpretation of the state constitution is final, yet the constitutionality of the state constitution may be passed upon by a federal court.

Attorney General West, in common with many Oklahoma citizens, feels the question is one of too great importance to the state itself not to be carried as far as possible in the courts.

WAS CRAZED BY DRINK.

Hobart, Ok., Sept. 4.—Crazed by drink and enraged, it is said, over a trivial dispute Scott Rouse shot and perhaps fatally wounded Jessie Jenkins, his partner in business. Jenkins received the bullet in the left side, the lead piercing the bowels, and coming out through the hip.

Rouse, when arrested, declined to talk, but it is thought the trouble occurred over a dispute concerning the management of the hotel he and he operated.

Residences for rent are scarce in Ada. The building of a number of cottages would prove a profitable investment.

The building of sidewalks can not begin any too soon. If delayed much longer the winter season will be here and then the work cannot be so successfully prosecuted.

Farmers can find larger stocks of goods at Ada than elsewhere and at lower prices, while the highest market price is paid for cotton. It will pay for you to travel further and trade at Ada.

The compress, gins and cotton seed oil mill are getting things in shape for the season's business. These industries of Ada, add much to its business and make the welkin ring with their whistles and the whirl of their machinery.

The democratic convention at Tulsa Tuesday did a very wise thing in not attempting to dictate to the people as to how they shall vote upon the several questions referred to them at political questions and no pronouncement of that gathering could have made them such, hence the proper thing was to leave them to the individual decision of the voter, as a majority of them would, in any event, have ignored any action of the convention upon questions upon which they have the right to exercise individual judgment.—Parcell Register.

The democratic party has at all times allowed the utmost liberty consistent with party organization to its members in voting on questions of public policy. Democrats do not surrender their individual liberty by advocating democratic principles. True democratic principles are consonant with individual liberty. In thus following democratic custom, the state convention at Tulsa pursued the only proper course for it as a democratic body. Of course, this action, that means harmony in the democratic ranks in Oklahoma, is gall and wormwood to the republicans.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Body of Farmer is Found Near Shawnee.

Shawnee, Ok., Sept. 4.—The dead body of Robert Calvin, a farmer residing two and one-half miles north-east of Shawnee, was found in a shallow pond on his farm late yesterday afternoon. How he met death is a mystery. A jury has been impaneled for an inquest which probably will not be held for a day or so. Drs. Hamilton, Grayson and Cannon conducted an autopsy this afternoon. Their report was sealed.

Calvin left home Thursday to drive up his stock. A short time afterward his horse returned to the house riderless. A search was begun and Calvin's body was found in the pond, one arm only showing above the water. There were several wounds on the face, but none sufficient to cause death.

DEMOCRATS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The Bryan-Kern Club Meet and Plan for Victorious Campaign—Huffar Makes Speech.

Friday evening was the regular meeting of the Bryan-Kern Club, and at 8:30 o'clock quite a number of the Ada democrats met at the court house to transact any business that might come before the club. The meeting was called to order by President Ebey, and Secretary Weaver read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. The reports of various outstanding committees were called for, but none were ready, except the committee on by-laws and constitution, who made a partial report covering the constitution only. The by-laws Mr. McKeown reported, would be offered for approval at a later date. The report as presented was read by the secretary and approved.

A motion by Byron Norrell prevailed that unless the contributor otherwise designated, the funds that are collected by the club, be apportioned as follows:

To the county, one dollar; to the state, two dollars, and to the nation, two dollars.

A motion carried that the chair appoint a committee of ten on club organization, whose duty will be to organize a democratic club in every precinct in Pontotoc county. The following were selected: Tom D. McKeown, J. W. Bolen, D. W. Huffar, Duke Stone, R. M. Roddie, Bob Wimblish, Rob Roland, Jno. Crawford, A. M. Croxton, I. M. King and Byron Norrell.

In obedience to article five of the constitution which provides that an executive committee constitute a part of the club machinery, the chair appointed the following: W. C. Duncan, Otis B. Weaver, W. T. Cox, M. W. Ligon and Geo. Thompson.

The main feature of the evening was the address of Judge Huffar. His theme was the need of awakening to the importance of success of the democratic ticket this fall, and an able treatise on the general cussedness of the republican party. Among other things he said the republicans had done was to bring on the country financial depression; filled the cities with soup houses, turned thousands of unemployed out to starve, erased state lines and destroyed the constitutional rights of the American commonwealths, filled mines with dead men's bones, and the worst thing of all, they have established the socialist party. The speaker very ably told how the republicans fostered the trust and tied the hands of honest toilers and investors.

A. M. Croxton spoke briefly concerning the importance of harmony in the local camp, and the cultivation of enthusiasm in the meetings.

Chairman of the program committee announced that at the next meeting night, T. D. McKeown and Dr. Holley will address the meeting and that some good music will be arranged for.

The secretary received a number of new names for the roll, and the following contributed to the fund. Jno. Rinard $5.00, W. G. Broadfoot $1.00, H. J. Brown $1.00, and Byron Norrell $1.00.

The club adjourned till Friday night, Sept. 18.

Mad Because He Was Hissed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—J. H. Hanly, republican governor of Indiana, started today to "get even" with the Taft men for allowing him to be hissed off the stage at the republican national convention when he presented the name of vice president Fairbanks. He called a special session of the legislature to enact some of his pet reforms. It is to meet Sept. 18.

After the memorable jeering of Hanly's convention speech the governor told the convention they would want to hear from him before November and that he would make it "burn for them."

The special session is the beginning of the "burning process." As a result the republican party is in this state split wide open, and National Chairman Frank Hitchcock is coming on the run to see Vice President Fairbanks and try to pacify Hanly.

Gov. Hanly, it is claimed, has the republican state leaders "eating pie out of his hand."

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Ada people endorse this claim: Mrs. Chas. Barrier, living on West 7th and Cherry Sts., Ada, Ok., says: "For a long time my husband was troubled with severe pains through the small of his back. Occasionally he had such sharp twinges that he could hardly refrain from crying out. Bending and straightening would always intensify his suffering. The kidney secretions were also irregular in action. These symptoms led him to believe that his kidneys were disordered and learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a box at G. M. Ramsey's drug store. He took them according to directions, and the trouble entirely disappeared. He has had no return of kidney complaint since, and consequently thinks very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the disease portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more strength, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds! It strengthens! It offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Organization of the Second Methodist Church.

Last night a large number of the Methodists on the North Side of town met the presiding elder, Rev. S. F. Goddard, at the Methodist church and the Second Methodist church formally organized with 80 members. Bro. Goddard made a very appropriate talk in which he stressed the fact that if the church is to be a successful church it must be a loyal, liberal, consecrated church and one filled with love for each other and for the souls of men. It must be a soul saving station in every sense of the word.

Bro. Rippey then spoke a few words in which he spoke of the great interest he had in the enterprise from its beginning and he desired to see that church one of the mightiest factors for the evangelization of the town. W. H. Nettles and C. W. Shepard were appointed stewards and a quarterly conference will be held the last of the month at which time all of the officers for the coming year will be elected. Rev. J. B. Kilgore will have charge of the work until conference and will preach twice each Sunday. Mr. Kilgore is a graduate of the Theological department of Vanderbilt University and one of the best educated preachers in the state. Perfect harmony prevailed in the organization and we are expecting to hear good reports from that church as the months go by.

We desire to buy a few hundred acres of land in tracts of not less than 80 acres.

The One Offering for Sin

It is not only true that Jesus Christ is a great and all-sufficient Saviour of sinners, but it is overwhelmingly true that he is the one only Saviour. If we accept him, we find him a perfect and complete salvation; but if we reject him, we are left without hope of life. If we believe in him, we are saved, but if we do not and will not believe in him, we are left unsaved and the wrath of God must continue to abide upon us.

The onliness of Christ's salvation presses it upon us in such a way as to demand our direct interest and attention. We are sinners, lost and ruined. We can not save ourselves. Of course, the infidel world has its notions on this matter, but, as far as we are concerned, we have no mind to be guided in this matter by the infidel world. We wish to rest on solid ground. We take the word of God here and elsewhere. We are not willing to risk the issues of an unending eternity on the ignorant guesses of the blind and unbelieving.

The Holy scriptures set forth Jesus Christ as the only Saviour of sinners. For our sakes he became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. Coming to earth, tabernacled in our flesh, he lived among us as an example and teacher, and at last died upon the cross of calvary. By his death he purchased eternal redemption for all who accept him as their Saviour, and his death becomes effectual for the eternal life of all who thus turn to him in repentance and faith.

It will not answer for any of us to speak or think of Christ as providing what is good in its way, but which we can get along without, if we see fit to do so. We may do without it, if we see fit to reject it, but if we do, we are ruined irretrievably and eternally.

The New Testament speaks plainly on this matter. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid." The house not builded on the rock is swept away when the storms beat and floods break upon it. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be damned." "He that hath not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." "If ye believe not that I am he ye shall die in your sins, and whither I go ye can not come." No words could be more clear and positive than these, and, coming as they do from the source and fountain of all spiritual information, we do well to give good heed to them.

The fact remains that our religion is to be objective in its very nature. We can not satisfy the claims against us by the cherishing of merely subjective state of mind and hearts. It is not enough to be spiritually dreamy and hopeful. We must have a mighty and all-sufficient Saviour upon whom to fasten our faith. It is not enough if one would keep his boat from drifting that he shall throw the rope out toward the shore even if one end is fixed firmly to his boat. He needs to have the other end of the rope fastened securely to some immovable object on the shore.

We are sinners, needy and helpless. We look out and up and on. We need a mighty Saviour who is able to succor and able to keep us. Christ is the only Saviour of the lost and sinful. If we miss him we are lost and ruined forever. If we are in him, we are safe for all eternity.—Exchange.

HAPPIEST BOY IN THE KINGDOM.

Once there was a king who had a little boy whom he loved. He gave him beautiful rooms to live in, and pictures and toys and books. He gave him a pony to ride, and a row boat on a lake, and servants. He provided teachers who were to give him knowledge that would make him good and great.

But for all this the young prince was not happy. He wore a frown wherever he went and was always wishing for something he did not have.

At length, one day, a magician came to court. He saw the boy, and said to the king, "I can make your son happy, but you must pay me a great price for telling you the secret."

"Well," said the king, "what you ask I will give."

So the price was paid. Then the magician took the boy into a private room. He wrote something on a paper with a white substance, gave the boy a candle and told him to light it and hold it under the paper, and then see what he could read. Then he went away.

The boy did as he had been told, and the white letters turned into a beautiful blue. They formed these words, "Do a kindness to someone every day."

The prince made use of the secret, and became the happiest boy in the kingdom.—Sunday School Gem.

HOW SHE KNEW.

She sat behind her neatly-arranged fruit stand—a girl of fourteen—absorbed in reading her Bible. She did not hear the footsteps of a gentleman who was passing by, and was startled by his question:

"What are you reading that interests you so much?"

"The Word of God, sir," she timidly replied.

"Who told you that the Bible was the Word of God?" he inquired.

"God told me, Himself," she replied, with childlike innocence.

"God told you? That is impossible! How did He tell you? You have never seen Him, nor talked with Him. How, then, could He tell you that the Bible is His Word?"

For a few seconds the girl seemed confused, but she very soon recovered herself. There was a flash in her dark eyes as she asked:

"Sir, who told you there is a sun yonder in the blue sky above us?"

"Who told me?" said the man, smiling somewhat contemptuously.

For he fancied that the girl was trying to hide her ignorance under an irrelevant question. "Who told me? Nobody; I did not need to be told."

The sun tells this about itself. It warms me, and I love its light. That is telling me, plain enough."

"Sir," said the girl with intense earnestness, as she stood before him with clasped hands: "You have put it right for both Bible and sun. That is the way God tells me this is His book. I read it, and it warms my heart and gives me life. I love its light, and no one but God can give such light and warmth through the pages of a book. It must be His. I do not want more telling."

That is telling enough, sir. As sure as God is in heaven, so sure is God shining through this Book."

The skeptic was abashed. The earnest faith of the young fruit-seller amazed him. He could adroitly insinuate doubts into the minds of those who have only given an intellectual assent to the truth that the Bible is God's book, but the girl's heart experience of the power of God's Word was an evidence he could not shake.—Messiah's Herald.

REVELATIONS.

The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked, as she began to inspect a basket of miscellaneous buttons, "You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds. Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife with a slight smile. "Well, all these buttons were found in the contribution box, and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What—must you go? Well, good-by. Come again soon."—Ladies Home Journal.

BLAMES VIOLATION OF LAW.

Oklahoma Mine Inspector to Report on Haileyville Disaster.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 4.—Peter Han-raty, chief mine inspector of Oklahoma, has completed an investigation of the mine disaster at Haileyville, in which more than a score of miners were killed, and will make his report to State Labor Commissioner Dougherty this week. It has been learned that the explosion was caused by an employee mistaking petroleum for engine oil and in taking a barrel of petroleum into the mine instead of the non-explosive substance. The accident was not due to alleged willful violation of the law.

Nine mines in the McAlester district have been closed voluntarily until they can make changes enabling them to carry explosives into the mines in "jacks" rather in canisters and by other methods and to enable the mine operators to do their own "propping" as required by law rather than to compel the mine workers to do this as has heretofore been the custom.

GOLD CAMP BURNED.

Rawhide, Nev., Has Destructive Fire, Making Thousands Homeless.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 4.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a destructive fire which started at 9:05 this morning in Dr. Gardner's office, located in the Rawhide drug company's building. Fanned by a gale, the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon Avenue and up Rawhide Avenue to within fifty yards of the People's hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames' progress.

The Farm

(From Home and Farm.)

Care of chickens—One of the first and most important things to be done now is to separate all the young fowls and send to market all those that we do not want to keep—males and females—or if we prefer to keep them for the table keep them in a separate pen.

The young males that we want to keep should be put in a pen and kept there until the breeding season begins in the early spring. All old males should be disposed of, and the hens and pullets to be kept for layers should be kept by themselves in yards where there is a good house and plenty of shade.

Provide a scratching shed and see that they use it. Do not feed too much—just enough to keep them in good, healthy condition. Give them oilmeal occasionally and if there is no grass on the lots throw them a few heads of waste cabbage, lettuce of any kind of green stuff that is growing around the place. Watch carefully for mites and keep the house clean. Whitewash, carbolic acid and scalding hot water do much to keep the house in perfect order.

Clean out the old straw from nests and renew after having sprayed the boxes with kerosene and lime.

Sprinkle lime over the floor and on walks, and do not forget to look after the roof and walls of the house.

See that there are no loose boards, and if the roof leaks repair it at once.

Just a little work now will save much worry and loss during the winter.

Life on the Farm.

Life on the farm is a good deal what we make it. It is pretty much that way in the cities and the towns, except we have more freedom on the farm. The happiest days of my life have been on the farm. It is there we breathe the pure air, hear the song of the birds and the bubbling of brooks, and see the blue sky unclouded by smoke. It is there we get acquainted with the noises of nature and enter into her moods. I would rather hear by little cricket tell of the shrill notes of the owl than listen to a description of the efforts of the finest orator singer.

There is something in country life that is soothing in its effects. The noises are those of nature and have not the jarring effect on the nerves as those of the city. I am not cranky. There are some things in the city that I admire, and there are many good people living there.

Many of the buildings are masterpieces of art, and the decoration grand beyond description. But everything is in a whirl; everybody chasing the almighty dollar, of seeking their own pleasure. The sign of sin and wickedness are ever present. Wickedness is licensed, and the privilege to sin is sold for so much a year. For real enjoyment the old-fashioned spelling school can knock the socks off of a city hall, where women wear long skirts and low-necked dresses. There was more enjoyment to the square inch of an old-time singing school than there is in a whole block of city amusements.

A country boy can unbutton five buttons, take of his clothes and jump into the water in seventeen seconds by the watch. It would take a city boy longer than that to take off his starched collar. When I see a country boy with nothing on but a straw hat, a shirt or waist, and a pair of pants rolled up to his knees, and an honest look from his clear, bright eye, my heart warms toward him, and I feel a firm and encouraging hope for the future of my country.

SENSATIONAL TRIPPLE KILLING

Hillsboro, Tex., Sept. 4.—The people of Hillsboro were intensely shocked by a tragedy which occurred in the city involving the immediate death of Carl Horne, a well-known young business man of the city, and Dr. J. H. Watson, a prominent oculist and jeweler, and the possibly fatal wounding of Miss Ethel Edsall, a young lady who has been employed for some time past as a night operator in the local telephone exchange of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, all from shots discharged from a pistol in the hands of Dr. Watson, one of the dead.

The affair has created a sensation that has not been equaled in intensity here in many years.

Watson Girl's Kinsman.

Dr. Watson was a half cousin of Miss Edsall, and this morning, as was sometimes his custom, went to the telephone exchange to accompany her on her way home. Young Horne also met her at the exchange, and the three parties left there together about 7:15 o'clock a. m. Miss Edsall having been relieved from duty for the day. When seen going along East Franklin street from the square they were conversing in an apparently agreeable spirit. On reaching the intersection of North Church, Dr. Watson and Miss Edsall separated from Mr. Horne, proceeding north on Church street, which was the usual course of the lady in going to her home on Smith street.

When they had gone as far as the northwest corner of Church and Paschal streets the two stopped in front of the house and became engaged in an animated conversation. Dr. Watson especially exhibiting considerable excitement and taking hold of his companion's arm while talking to her. While they were thus occupied Mr. Horne came north on Church street to where they were standing, and when he had nearly reached them, Dr. Watson drew a pistol and discharged it at Miss Edsall twice, one ball striking her under the left shoulder and apparently penetrated downward, lodging against her spinal column. This bullet had been slightly deflected in its course by contact with a corset stay. The second struck her on the outside of her left hand and passed through it, grazing her body and lodging in her clothing.

Kills Horne and Himself.

Watson then turned upon young Horne and discharged one barrel at him, the bullet entering a little below and back of the left shoulder and passing out above the nipple of the right breast. Then turning the pistol upon himself, he fired twice, both bullets entering the right breast near the nipple.

Both men died instantly. Miss Edsall was conveyed into George W. Patterson's residence and physicians summoned to attend her. She was alive at a late hour this evening, but while her condition was at the last account somewhat encouraging, it is still regarded as very critical.

She was an exceedingly popular young lady and great interest is felt in the result of her wounds. Carl Horne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Horne and was reared in the county. He was a young man of fine character and highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Dr. Watson had been in business here a number of years and had formed a large circle of friends. He is survived by his widow and two young children, a son and a daughter.

Miss Edsall lived with her mother and brother. She has two other brothers, one of whom lives at Frost and the other in the state of Colorado. She is about 18 years of age. Dr. Watson was 37 and Carl Horne 21 years of age.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS WOMAN

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Walter Allen, wife of the proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, last night shot and almost instantly killed Lillian Wheatly, who lived near the lake, east of the Fort Worth and Denver coal chutes.

The shooting occurred shortly after 11 o'clock, in front of the Wheatly woman's house, while she was seated in a buggy with Allen.

Mrs. Allen had called a cab and had driven to the neighborhood, where she got out, telling the driver to wait for her. As she alighted from the cab the driver saw that she carried a pistol, and as soon as she had stepped a few feet he turned his horses about and started to drive away. Mrs. Allen, however, stopped him when he reached the coal chutes and told him to drive back to the spot where she had alighted.

Mrs. Allen after the shooting said that when she started she took the revolver only to protect herself and not to shoot any one, but lost control of herself when she saw her husband in the buggy with the Wheatly woman. Walking straight to the buggy from the rear, she fired into the woman's side when not more than two feet distant. The bullet entered under the left shoulder blade and passed through the body, lodging under the skin in the right breast.

Mortally wounded, the woman's body, lurched forward over the wheel just as the horse, frightened by the report of the sixshooter, lunged forward and started to run away. The reins had been lying loose over the dashboard, and before Allen could regain them and check the frightened animal it had carried them no little distance.

Within ten minutes after the shooting the woman was dead. When the shot was fired Marshal Gwinn and Officer Jernigan were approaching the house, not forty feet away.

Mrs. Allen was in a high state of delirium from excitement and remained in that condition throughout the night. Being subject to attacks of heart trouble, it was feared that she might succumb, but this morning her condition was said to be better.

Last night while being taken to the hotel Mrs. Allen told Marshal Gwinn that she had not realized what she was doing until she had pulled the trigger, and at that instant thought of her children.

A complaint was filed against Mrs. Allen this morning, charging murder. She waived a preliminary hearing and was placed under $1500 bond which was promptly given.

WEST WILL STILL FIGHT CASE

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 4.—Charles J. West, attorney general of Oklahoma, who was recently deprived by the state supreme court of all power to initiate court cases in the name of the state without first securing the consent of Gov. Haskell, will refuse to accept as final the decision of the supreme court that the attorney general, an elective officer, is merely a factotum of the governor, and will file in the state supreme court a petition for a rehearing of the case, which is permissible under the rules of the court. If the court refuses a rehearing, or holds against West in a rehearing, West is prepared to appeal to the federal court.

Without denying the fact that the state supreme court's interpretation of the state constitution is final, yet the constitutionality of the state constitution may be passed upon by a federal court.

Attorney General West, in common with many Oklahoma citizens, feels the question is one of too great importance to the state itself not to be carried as far as possible in the courts.

WAS CRAZED BY DRINK.

Hobart, Ok., Sept. 4.—Crazed by drink and enraged, it is said, over a trivial dispute Scott Rouse shot and perhaps fatally wounded Jessie Jenkins, his partner in business. Jenkins received the bullet in the left side, the lead piercing the bowels and coming out through the hip.

Rouse, when arrested, declined to talk, but it is thought the trouble occurred over a dispute concerning the management of the hotel he and operated.

EDGAR S. RATLIFF.

Residences for rent are scarce in Ada. The building of a number of cottages would prove a profitable investment.

The building of sidewalks can not begin any too soon. If delayed much longer the winter season will be here and then the work cannot be so successfully prosecuted.

Farmers can find larger stocks of goods at Ada than elsewhere and at lower prices, while the highest market price is paid for cotton. It will pay for you to travel further and trade at Ada.

The compress, gins and cotton seed oil mill are getting things in shape for the season's business. These industries of Ada, add much to its business and make the walking ring with their whistles and the whirl of their machinery.

The democratic convention at Tulsa Tuesday did a very wise thing in not attempting to dictate to the people as to how they shall vote upon the several questions referred to them at political questions and no pronouncement of that gathering could have made them such, hence the proper thing was to leave them to the individual decision of the voter, as a majority of them would, in any event, have ignored any action of the convention upon questions upon which they have the right to exercise individual judgment.—Purcell Register.

The democratic party has at all times allowed the utmost liberty consistent with party organization to its members in voting on questions of public policy. Democrats do not surrender their individual liberty by advocating democratic principles. True democratic principles are consonant with individual liberty. In thus following democratic custom, the state convention at Tulsa pursued the only proper course for it as a democratic body. Of course, this action, that means harmony in the democratic ranks in Oklahoma, is gall and wormwood to the republicans.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Body of Farmer is Found Near Shawnee.

Shawnee, Ok., Sept. 4.—The dead body of Robert Calvin, a farmer residing two and one-half miles northeast of Shawnee, was found in a shallow pond on his farm late yesterday afternoon. How he met death is a mystery. A jury has been impaneled for an inquest which probably will not be held for a day or so. Drs. Hamilton, Grayson and Cannon conducted an autopsy this afternoon. Their report was sealed.

Calvin left home Thursday to drive up his stock. A short time afterward his horse returned to the house riderless. A search was begun and Calvin's body was found in the pond, one arm only showing above the water. There were several wounds on the face, but none sufficient to cause death.

DEMOCRATS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The Bryan-Kern Club Meet and Plan for Victorious Campaign—Huffar Makes Speech.

Friday evening was the regular meeting of the Bryan-Kern Club, and at 8:30 o'clock quite a number of the Ada democrats met at the court house to transact any business that might come before the club. The meeting was called to order by President Huey, and Secretary Weaver read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. The reports of various outstanding committees were called for, but none were ready, except the committee on by-laws and constitution, who made a partial report covering the constitution only. The by-laws Mr. McKeown reported, would be offered for approval at a later date. The report as presented was read by the secretary and approved.

A motion by Byron Norrell prevailed that unless the contributor otherwise designated, the funds that are collected by the club, be apportioned as follows:

To the county, one dollar; to the state, two dollars, and to the nation, two dollars.

A motion carried that the chair appoint a committee of ten on club organization, whose duty will be to organize a democratic club in every precinct in Pontotoc county. The following were selected: Tom D. McKeown, J. W. Bolen, D. W. Huffar, Duke Stone, R. M. Roddie, Bob Wimbish, Rob Roland, Jno. Crawford, A. M. Croxton, I. M. King and Byron Norrell.

In obedience to article five of the constitution which provides that an executive committee constitute a part of the club machinery, the chair appointed the following: W. C. Duncan, Otis B. Weaver, W. T. Cox, M. W. Ligon and Geo. Thompson.

The main feature of the evening was the address of Judge Huffar. His theme was the need of awakening to the importance of success of the democratic ticket this fall, and an able treatise on the general cursedness of the republican party. Among other things he said the republicans had done was to bring on the country financial depression; filled the cities with soup houses, turned thousands of unemployed out to starve, erased state lines and destroyed the constitutional rights of the American commonwealths. Filled mines with dead men's bones, and the worst thing of all, they have established the socialist party. The speaker very ably told how the republicans fostered the trust and tied the hands of honest toilers and investors.

A. M. Croxton spoke briefly concerning the importance of harmony in the local camp, and the cultivation of enthusiasm in the meetings.

Chairman of the program committee announced that at the next meeting night, T. D. McKeown and Dr. Holley will address the meeting and that some good music will be arranged for.

The secretary received a number of new names for the roll, and the following contributed to the fund. Jno. Rhoad $5.00, W. G. Broadfoot $1.00, H. J. Brown $1.00, and Byron Norrell $1.00.

The club adjourned till Friday night, Sept. 18.

Mad Because He Was Hissed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—J. H. Hanly, republican governor of Indiana, started today to "get even" with the Taft men for allowing him to be blessed off the stage at the republican national convention when he presented the name of vice president Fairbanks. He called a special session of the legislature to enact some of his pet reforms. It is to meet Sept. 18.

After the memorable jeering of Hanly's convention speech the governor told the convention they would want to hear from him before November and that he would make it "burn for them."

The special session is the beginning of the "burning process." As a result the republican party is in this state split wide open, and National Chairman Frank Hitchcock is coming on the run to see Vice President Fairbanks and try to pacify Hanly.

Gov. Hanly, it is claimed, has the republican state leaders "eating pie out of his hand."

NO HARD STRUGGLE.

Many An Ada Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Ada people endorse this claim: Mrs. Chas. Barrier, living on West 7th and Cherry Sts., Ada, Ok., says: "For a long time my husband was troubled with severe pains through the small of his back. Occasionally he had such sharp twinges that he could hardly refrain from crying out. Bending and straightening would always intensify his suffering. The kidney secretions were also irregular in action. These symptoms led him to believe that his kidneys were disordered and learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, he procured a box at G. M. Ramsey's drug store. He took them according to directions, and the trouble entirely disappeared. He has had no return of kidney complaint since, and consequently thinks very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills."

It's a pity when sick ones drug the stomach to stimulate the heart and kidneys. That is all wrong! A weak stomach means weak stomach nerves, always. And is also true of heart and kidneys. The weak nerves are instead crying out for help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is promptly helping stomach, heart and kidney ailments. The Restorative reaches out for the actual cause of these ailments—the falling "inside nerves." Anyway test the Restorative 48 hours. It won't cure so soon that, but you will surely know help is coming. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Organization of the Second Methodist Church.

Last night a large number of the Methodists on the North Side of town met the presiding elder, Rev. S. F. Goddard, at the Methodist church and the Second Methodist church formally organized with 80 members. Bro. Goddard made a very appropriate talk in which he stressed the fact that if the church is to be a successful church it must be a loyal, liberal, consecrated church and one filled with love for each other and for the souls of men. It must be a soul saving station in every sense of the word.

Bro. Rippey then spoke a few words in which he spoke of the great interest he had in the enterprise from its beginning and he desired to see that church one of the mightiest factors for the evangelization of the town. W. H. Nettles and C. W. Shepard were appointed stewards and a quarterly conference will be held the last of the month at which time all of the officers for the coming year will be elected. Rev. J. B. Kilgore will have charge of the work until conference and will preach twice each Sunday. Mr. Kilgore is a graduate of the Theological department of Vanderbilt University and one of the best educated preachers in the state. Perfect harmony prevailed in the organization and we are expecting to hear good reports from that church as the months go by.

The One Offering for Sin

It is not only true that Jesus Christ is a great and all-sufficient Saviour of sinners, but it is overwhelmingly true that he is the one only Saviour. If we accept him, we find him a perfect and complete salvation; but if we reject him, we are left without hope of life. If we believe in him, we are saved, but if we do not and will not believe in him, we are left unsaved and the wrath of God must continue to abide upon us.

The oneness of Christ's salvation presses it upon us in such a way as to demand our direct interest and attention. We are sinners, lost and ruined. We can not save ourselves. Of course, the infidel world has its notions on this matter, but as far as we are concerned, we have no mind to be guided in this matter by the infidel world. We wish to rest on solid ground. We take the word of God here and elsewhere. We are not willing to risk the issues of an unending eternity on the ignorant guesses of the blind and unbelieving.

The Holy scriptures set forth Jesus Christ as the only Saviour of sinners. For our sakes he became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. Coming to earth, tabernacling in our flesh, he lived among us as an example and teacher, and at last died upon the cross of calvary. By his death he purchased eternal redemption for all who accept him as their Saviour, and his death becomes effectual for the eternal life of all who thus turn to him in repentance and faith.

It will not answer for any of us to speak or think of Christ as providing what is good in its way, but which we can get along without, if we see fit to do so. We may do without it, if we see fit to reject it, but if we do, we are ruined irretrievably and eternally.

The New Testament speaks plainly on this matter. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid." The house not builded on the rock is swept away when the storms beat and floods break upon it. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be damned." "He that hath not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." "If ye believe not that I am he ye shall die in your sins, and whither I go ye can not come." No words could be more clear and positive than these, and, coming as they do from the source and fountain of all spiritual information, we do well to give good heed to them.

The fact remains that our religion is to be objective in its very nature. We can not satisfy the claims against us by the cherishing of merely subjective state of mind and hearts. It is not enough to be spiritually dreamy and hopeful. We must have a mighty and all-sufficient Saviour upon whom to fasten our faith. It is not enough if one would keep his boat from drifting that he shall throw the rope out toward the shore even if one end is fixed firmly to his boat. He needs to have the other end of the rope fastened securely to some immovable object on the shore.

We are sinners, needy and helpless. We look out and up and on. We need a mighty Saviour who is able to succor and able to keep us. Christ is the only Saviour of the lost and sinful. If we miss him we are lost and ruined forever. If we are in him, we are safe for all eternity.—Exchange.

HAPPIEST BOY IN THE KINGDOM.

Once there was a king who had a little boy whom he loved. He gave him beautiful rooms to live in, and pictures and toys and books. He gave him a pony to ride, and a row boat on a lake, and servants. He provided teachers who were to give him knowledge that would make him good and great.

But for all this the young prince was not happy. He wore a frown wherever he went and was always wishing for something he did not have.

At length, one day, a magician came to court. He saw the boy, and said to the king, "I can make your son happy, but you must pay me a great price for telling you the secret."

"Well," said the king, "what you ask I will give."

So the price was paid. Then the magician took the boy into a private room. He wrote something on a paper with a white substance, gave the boy a candle and told him to light it and hold it under the paper, and then see what he could read. Then he went away.

The boy did as he had been told, and the white letters turned into a beautiful blue. They formed these words, "Do a kindness to someone every day."

The prince made use of the secret, and became the happiest boy in the kingdom.—Sunday School Gem.

HOW SHE KNEW.

She sat behind her neatly-arranged fruit stand—a girl of fourteen—absorbed in reading her Bible. She did not hear the footsteps of a gentleman who was passing by, and was startled by his question:

"What are you reading that interests you so much?"

"The Word of God, sir," she timidly replied.

"Who told you that the Bible was the Word of God?" he inquired. "God told me, Himself," she replied, with childlike innocence.

"God told you? That is impossible! How did He tell you? You have never seen Him, nor talked with Him. How, then, could He tell you that the Bible is His Word?"

For a few seconds the girl seemed confused, but she very soon recovered herself. There was a flash in her dark eyes as she asked:

"Sir, who told you there is a sun yonder in the blue sky above us?"

"Who told me?" said the man, smiling somewhat contemptuously, for he fancied that the girl was trying to hide her ignorance under an irrelevant question. "Who told me? Nobody; I did not need to be told. The sun tells this about itself. It warms me, and I love its light. That is telling me, plain enough."

"Sir," said the girl with intense earnestness, as she stood before him with clasped hands: "You have put it right for both Bible and sun. That is the way God tells me this in His book I read it, and it warms my heart and gives me life. I love its light, and no one but God can give such light and warmth through the pages of a book. It must be His. I do not want more telling. That is telling enough, sir. As sure as God is in heaven, so sure is God shining through this Book."

The skeptic was abashed. The earnest faith of the young fruit-seller amazed him. He could not but insinuate doubts into the minds of those who have only given an intellectual assent to the truth that the Bible is God's book, but the girl's heart experience of the power of God's Word was an evidence he could not shake.—Messiah's Herald.

REVELATIONS.

The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked, as she began to inspect a basket of miscellaneous buttons, "You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds. Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife with a slight smile. "Well, all these buttons were found in the contribution box, and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What—must you go? Well, good-by. Come again soon."—Ladies Home Journal.

BLAMES VIOLATION OF LAW.

Oklahoma Mine Inspector to Report on Halleyville Disaster.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 4.—Peter Hanratty, chief mine inspector of Oklahoma, has completed an investigation of the mine disaster at Halleyville, in which more than a score of miners were killed, and will make his report to State Labor Commissioner Dougherty this week. It has been learned that the explosion was caused by an employee mistaking petroleum for engine oil and in taking a barrel of petroleum into the mine instead of the non-explosive substance. The accident was not due to alleged willful violation of the law.

Nine mines in the McAlester district have been closed voluntarily until they can make changes enabling them to carry explosives into the mines in "jacks" rather in canisters and by other methods and to enable the mine operators to do their own "propping" as required by law rather than to compel the mine workers to do this as has heretofore been the custom.

GOLD CAMP BURNED.

Rawhide, Nev., Has Destructive Fire, Making Thousands Homeless.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 4.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a destructive fire which started at 9:05 this morning in Dr. Gardner's office, located in the Rawhide drug company's building. Fanned by a gale, the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon Avenue and up Rawhide Avenue to within fifty yards of the People's hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames' progress.

The Farm

(From Home and Farm.)

Care of chickens—One of the first and most important things to be done now is to separate all the young fowls and send to market all those that we do not want to keep—males and females—or if we prefer to keep them for the table keep them in a separate pen.

The young males that we want to keep should be put in a pen and kept there until the breeding season begins in the early spring. All old males should be disposed of, and the hens and pullets to be kept for layers should be kept by themselves in yards where there is a good house and plenty of shade.

Provide a scratching shed and see that they use it. Do not feed too much—just enough to keep them in good, healthy condition. Give them oilmeal occasionally and if there is no grass on the lots throw them a few heads of waste cabbage, lettuce of any kind of green stuff that is growing around the place. Watch carefully for mites and keep the house clean. Whitewash, carbolic acid and scalding hot water do much to keep the house in perfect order.

Clean out the old straw from nests and renew after having sprayed the boxes with kerosene and lime.

Sprinkle lime over the floor and on walks, and do not forget to look after the roof and walls of the house.

See that there are no loose boards, and if the roof leaks repair it at once.

Just a little work now will save much worry and loss during the winter.

Life on the Farm.

Life on the farm is a good deal what we make it. It is pretty much that way in the cities and the towns, except we have more freedom on the farm. The happiest days of my life have been on the farm. It is there we breathe the pure air, hear the song of the birds and the bubbling of brooks, and see the blue sky unclouded by smoke. It is there we get acquainted with the noises of nature and enter into her moods. I would rather hear by little cricket tell of the shrill notes of the owl than listen to a description of the efforts of the finest opera singer. There is something in country life that is soothing in its effects. The noises are those of nature and have not the jarring effect on the nerves as those of the city. I am not cranky. There are some things in the city that I admire, and there are many good people living there.

Many of the buildings are masterpieces of art, and the decoration grand beyond description. But everything is in a whirl; everybody chasing the almighty dollar, of seeking their own pleasure. The sign of sin and wickedness are ever present. Wickedness is licensed, and the privilege to sin is sold for so much a year. For real enjoyment the old-fashioned spelling school can knock the socks off of a city hall, where women wear long skirts and low-necked dresses. There was more enjoyment to the square inch of an old-time singing school than there is in a whole block of city amusements.

A country boy can unbutton five buttons, take of his clothes and jump into the water in seventeen seconds by the watch. It would take a city boy longer than that to take off his starched collar. When I see a country boy with nothing on but a straw hat, a shirt or waist, and a pair of pants rolled up to his knees, and an honest look from his clear, bright eye, my heart warms toward him, and I feel a firm and encouraging hope for the future of my country.

SENSATIONAL TRIPPLE KILLING

Hillsboro Tex. Sept 4.—The people of Hillsboro were intensely shocked by a tragedy which occurred in the city involving the immediate death of Carl Horne a well known young business man of the city and Dr. J. H. Watson a prominent oculist and jeweler and the possibly fatal wounding of Miss Ethel Edsall a young lady who has been employed for some time past as a night operator in the local telephone exchange of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company all from shots discharged from a pistol in the hands of Dr. Watson one of the dead.

The affair has created a sensation that has not been equaled in intensity here in many years.
Watson Girl's Kinsman.
Dr. Watson was a half cousin of Miss Edsall and this morning as was sometimes his custom went to the telephone exchange to accompany her on her way home. Young Horne also met her at the exchange and the three parties left there together about 7:15 o'clock. Miss Edsall having been relieved from duty for the day. When seen going along East Franklin street from the square they were conversing in an apparently agreeable spirit. On reaching the intersection of North Church Dr. Watson and Miss Edsall separated from Mr. Horne proceeding north on Church street which was the usual course of the day in going to her home on Smith street.

When they had gone as far as the northwest corner of Church and Paschal streets the two stopped in front of the house and became engaged in an intimate conversation. Dr. Watson especially exhibiting considerable excitement and taking hold of his companions arm while talking to her. While they were thus occupied Mr. Horne came north on Church street to where they were standing and when he had nearly reached them Dr. Watson drew a pistol and discharged it. Miss Edsall twice one ball struck her under the left shoulder and instantly penetrated downward lodging against her spinal column. This bullet had been slightly deflected in its course by contact with a cross stay. The second shot hit her on the outside of her left hip and passed through it grazing her arm and lodging in the cloth.

Kills Horne and Himself.
Watson then turned upon Mr. Horne and discharged a bullet at him the bullet entering a little below and back of his shoulder and passing out above the nipple of the right breast then turning the pistol upon himself he fired twice both bullets entering the right breast near the nipple.
Both men died instantly. Miss Edsall was conveyed to George W. Patterson's residence and the coroner summoned to attend her. She was alive at a late hour this evening but while her condition was not the last account somewhat alarming it is still regarded as critical.
She was an exceedingly pretty young lady and great interest is felt in the result of her wounds.
Carl Horne is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Horne and was 21 years of age. He was a young man of fine character and highly esteemed by all who knew him.
Dr. Watson had been in business here a number of years and had formed a large circle of friends. He is survived by his widow and two young children a son and a daughter.
Miss Edsall lived with her mother and brother. She has two other brothers one of whom lives at Frost and the other in the state of Colorado. She is about 18 years of age. Dr. Watson was 27 and Carl Horne 21 years of age.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS WOMAN

Wichita Falls Tex. Sept 4.—Mrs. Walter Allen wife of the proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel last night shot and almost instantly killed Tillman Wheatly who lived near the lake east of the Fort Worth and Denver coal chutes.

The shooting occurred shortly after 11 o'clock in front of the Wheatly woman's house while she was seated in a buggy with Allen.
Mrs. Allen had called a cab and had driven to the neighborhood where she got out telling the driver to wait for her. As she alighted from the cab the driver saw that she carried a pistol and as soon as she had stepped a few feet he turned his horses about and started to drive away. Mrs. Allen however stopped him when he reached the coal chutes and told him to drive back to the spot where she had alighted.

Mrs. Allen after the shooting said that when she started she took the revolver only to protect herself and not to shoot any one but lost control of herself when she saw her husband in the buggy with the Wheatly woman. Walking straight to the buggy from the rear she fired into the woman's side when not more than two feet distant. The bullet entered under the left shoulder blade and passed through the body lodging under the skin in the right breast.

Mortally wounded the woman's body lurched forward over the wheel just as the horse frightened by the report of the sixshooter lunged forward and started to run away. The reins had been lying loose over the dashboard and before Allen could regain them and check the frightened animal it had carried them no little distance.

Within ten minutes after the shooting the woman was dead. When the shot was fired Marshal Gwynn and Officer Jennings were approaching the house not forty feet away.

Mrs. Allen was in a high state of delirium from excitement and remained in that condition throughout the night. Being subject to attacks of heart trouble it was feared that she might succumb but this morning her condition was said to be better.

Last night while being taken to the hotel Mrs. Allen told Marshal Gwynn that she had not realized what she was doing until she had pulled the trigger and at that instant thought of her children.

A complaint was filed against Mrs. Allen this morning charging murder. She waived a preliminary hearing and was placed under $1000 bond which was promptly given.

WEST WILL STILL FIGHT CASE

Guthrie Ok. Sept 4.—Charles I. West attorney general of Oklahoma who was recently deprived by the state supreme court of all power to initiate court cases in the name of the state without first securing the consent of Gov. Haskell will refuse to accept as final the decision of the supreme court that the attorney general an elective officer is merely a factotum of the governor and will file in the state supreme court a petition for a rehearing of the case which is permissible under the rules of the court. If the court refuses a rehearing or holds against West in a rehearing West is prepared to appeal to the federal court.

Without denying the fact that the state supreme court's interpretation of the state constitution is final yet the constitutionality of the state constitution may be passed upon by a federal court.

Attorney General West in common with many Oklahoma citizens feels the question is one of too great importance to the state itself not to be carried as far as possible in the courts.

Residences for rent are scarce in Ada. The building of a number of cottages would prove a profitable investment.

The building of sidewalks can not begin any too soon. If delayed much longer the winter season will be here and then the work cannot be so successfully prosecuted.

Farmers can find larger stocks of goods at Ada than elsewhere and at lower prices, while the highest market price is paid for cotton. It will pay for you to travel further and trade at Ada.

The compress, gins and cotton seed oil mill are getting things in shape for the season's business. These industries of Ada, add much to its business and make the welkin ring with their whistles and the whirr of their machinery.

The democratic convention at Tulsa Tuesday did a very wise thing in not attempting to dictate to the people as to how they shall vote upon the several questions referred to them at political questions and no pronouncement of that gathering could have made them such, hence the proper thing was to leave them to the individual decision of the voter, as a majority of them would, in any event, have ignored any action of the convention upon questions upon which they have the right to exercise individual judgment.—Purcell Register.

The democratic party has at all times allowed the utmost liberty consistent with party organization to its members in voting on questions of public policy. Democrats do not surrender their individual liberty by advocating democratic principles. True democratic principles are consonant with individual liberty. In thus following democratic custom, the state convention at Tulsa pursued the only proper course for it as a democratic body. Of course, this action, that means harmony in the democratic ranks in Oklahoma, is gall and wormwood to the republicans.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

Body of Farmer is Found Near Shawnee.

Shawnee, Ok., Sept. 4.—The dead body of Robert Calvin, a farmer residing two and one-half miles north-east of Shawnee, was found in a shallow pond on his farm late yesterday afternoon. How he met death is a mystery. A jury has been impaneled for an inquest which probably will not be held for a day or so. Drs. Hamilton, Grayson and Cannon conducted an autopsy this afternoon. Their report was sealed.

Calvin left home Thursday to drive up his stock. A short time afterward his horse returned to the house riderless. A search was begun and Calvin's body was found in the pond, one arm only showing above the water. There were several wounds on the face, but none sufficient to cause death.

DEMOCRATS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The Bryan-Kern Club Meet and Plan for Victorious Campaign—Huffar Makes Speech.

Friday evening was the regular meeting of the Bryan-Kern Club, and at 8:30 o'clock quite a number of the Ada democrats met at the court house to transact any business that might come before the club. The meeting was called to order by President Ebey, and Secretary Weaver read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. The reports of various outstanding committees were called for, but none were ready, except the committee on by-laws and constitution, who made a partial report covering the constitution only. The by-laws Mr. McKeown reported, would be offered for approval at a later date. The report as presented was read by the secretary and approved.

A motion by Byron Norrell prevailed that unless the contributor otherwise designated, the funds that are collected by the club, be apportioned as follows:

To the county, one dollar; to the state, two dollars, and to the nation, two dollars.

A motion carried that the chair appoint a committee of ten on club organization, whose duty will be to organize a democratic club in every precinct in Pontotoc county. The following were selected: Tom D. McKeown, J. W. Bolen, D. W. Huffar, Duke Stone, R. M. Raddie, Bob Wimbush, Rob Rotand, Jno. Crawford, A. M. Croxton, I. M. King and Byron Norrell.

In obedience to article five of the constitution which provides that an executive committee constitute a part of the club machinery, the chair appointed the following: W. C. Duncan, Otis B. Weaver, W. T. Cox, M. W. Ligon and Geo. Thompson.

The main feature of the evening was the address of Judge Huffar. His theme was the need of awakening to the importance of success of the democratic ticket this fall, and an able treatise on the general cussedness of the republican party. Among other things he said the republicans had done was to bring on the country financial depression; filled the cities with soup houses, turned thousands of unemployed out to starve, erased state lines and destroyed the constitutional rights of the American commonwealths, filled mines with dead men's bones, and the worst thing of all, they have established the socialist party. The speaker very ably told how the republicans fostered the trust and tied the hands of honest toilers and investors.

A. M. Croxton spoke briefly concerning the importance of harmony in the local camp, and the cultivation of enthusiasm in the meetings. Chairman of the program committee announced that at the next meeting night, T. D. McKeown and Dr. Holley will address the meeting and that some good music will be arranged for.

The secretary received a number of new names for the roll, and the following contributed to the fund. Jno. Rloard $5.00, W. C. Broadfoot $1.00, H. J. Brown $1.00, and Byron Norrell $1.00.

The club adjourned till Friday night, Sept. 18.

Mad Because He Was Hissed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—J. H. Hanly, republican governor of Indiana, started today to "get even" with the Taft men for allowing him to be hissed off the stage at the republican national convention when he presented the name of vice president Fairbanks. He called a special session of the legislature to enact some of his pet reforms. It is to meet Sept. 18.

After the memorable jeering of Hanly's convention speech the governor told the convention they would want to hear from him before November and that he would make it "burn for them."

The special session is the beginning of the "burning process." As a result the republican party is in this state split wide open, and National Chairman Frank Hitchcock is coming on the run to see Vice President Fairbanks and try to pacify Hanly.

Gov. Hanly, it is claimed, has the republican state leaders "eating pie out of his hand."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in fact, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, fluttering heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds up strength, it orders real genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

Organization of the Second Methodist Church.

Last night a large number of the Methodists on the North Side of town met the presiding elder, Rev S. F. Goddard, at the Methodist church and the Second Methodist church formally organized with 80 members. Bro Goddard made a very appropriate talk in which he stressed the fact that if the church is to be a successful church it must be loyal, liberal, consecrated church and one filled with love for each other and for the souls of men. It must be a soul saving station in every sense of the word

Bro Rippey then spoke a few words in which he spoke of the great interest he had in the enterprise from its beginning and he desired to see that church one of the mightiest factors for the evangelization of the town. W. H. Nettles and C. W. Shepard were appointed stewards and a quarterly conference will be held the last of the month at which time all of the officers for the coming year will be elected. Rev. J. E. Kilgore will have charge of the work until conference and will preach twice each Sunday. Mr. Kilgore is a graduate of the Theological department of Vanderbilt University and one of the best educated preachers in the state. Perfect harmony prevailed in the organization and we are expecting to hear good reports from that church as the months go by.

The One Offering for Sin

It is not only true that Jesus Christ is a great and all-sufficient Saviour of sinners, but it is overwhelmingly true that he is the one only Saviour. If we accept him, we find him a perfect and complete salvation; but if we reject him, we are left without hope of life. If we believe in him, we are saved, but if we do not and will not believe in him, we are left unsaved and the wrath of God must continue to abide upon us.

The oneness of Christ's salvation presses it upon us in such a way as to demand our direct interest and attention. We are sinners, lost and ruined. We can not save ourselves. Of course, the infidel world has its notions on this matter, but, as far as we are concerned, we have no mind to be guided in this matter by the infidel world. We wish to rest on solid ground. We take the word of God here and elsewhere. We are not willing to risk the issues of an unending eternity on the ignorant guesses of the blind and unbelieving.

The Holy scriptures set forth Jesus Christ as the only Saviour of sinners. For our sakes he became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. Coming to earth, tabernacling in our flesh, he lived among us as an example and teacher, and at last died upon the cross of calvary. By his death he purchased eternal redemption for all who accept him as their Saviour, and his death becomes effectual for the eternal life of all who thus turn to him in repentance and faith.

It will not answer for any of us to speak or think of Christ as providing what is good in its way, but which we can get along without, if we see fit to do so. We may do without it, if we see fit to reject it, but if we do, we are ruined irretrievably and eternally.

The New Testament speaks plainly on this matter "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid." The house not builded on the rock is swept away when the storms beat and floods break upon it. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be damned." "If ye that hath not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." "If ye believe not that I am he ye shall die in your sins, and whither I go ye can not come." No words could be more clear and positive than these, and, coming as they do from the source and fountain of all spiritual information, we do well to give good heed to them.

The fact remains that our religion is to be objective in its very nature. We can not satisfy the claims against us by the cherishing of merely subjective state of mind and hearts. It is not enough to be spiritually dreamy and hopeful. We must have a mighty and all-sufficient Saviour upon whom to fasten our faith. It is not enough if one would keep his boat from drifting that he shall throw the rope out toward the shore even if one end is fixed firmly to his boat. He needs to have the other end of the rope fastened securely to some immovable object on the shore. We are sinners, needy and helpless. We look out and up and on. We need a mighty Saviour who is able to succor and able to keep us. Christ is the only Saviour of the lost and sinful. If we miss him we are lost and ruined forever. If we are in him, we are safe for all eternity.—Exchange.

HAPPIEST BOY IN THE KINGDOM.

Once there was a king who had a little boy whom he loved. He gave him beautiful rooms to live in, and pictures and toys and books. He gave him a pony to ride, and a row boat on a lake, and servants. He provided teachers who were to give him knowledge that would make him good and great.

But for all this the young prince was not happy. He wore a frown wherever he went and was always wishing for something he did not have.

At length, one day, a magician came to court. He saw the boy, and said to the king, "I can make your son happy, but you must pay me a great price for telling you the secret."

"Well," said the king, "what you ask I will give."

So the price was paid. Then the magician took the boy into a private room. He wrote something on a paper with a white substance, gave the boy a candle and told him to light it and hold it under the paper, and then see what he could read. Then he went away.

The boy did as he had been told, and the white letters turned into a beautiful blue. They formed these words, "Do a kindness to someone every day."

The prince made use of the secret, and became the happiest boy in the kingdom.—Sunday School Gem.

HOW SHE KNEW.

She sat behind her neatly-arranged fruit stand—a girl of fourteen—absorbed in reading her Bible. She did not hear the footsteps of a gentleman who was passing by, and was startled by his question:

"What are you reading that interests you so much?"

"The Word of God, sir," she timidly replied.

"Who told you that the Bible was the Word of God?" he inquired.

"God told me, Himself," she replied, with childlike innocence.

"God told you? That is impossible! How did He tell you? You have never seen Him, nor talked with Him. How, then, could He tell you that the Bible is His Word?"

For a few seconds the girl seemed confused, but she very soon recovered herself. There was a flash in her dark eyes as she asked:

"Sir, who told you there is a sun yonder in the blue sky above us?"

"Who told me?" said the man, smiling somewhat contemptuously, for he fancied that the girl was trying to hide her ignorance under an irrelevant question. "Who told me? Nobody; I did not need to be told. The sun tells this about itself. It warms me, and I love its light. That is telling me, plain enough."

"Sir," said the girl with intense earnestness, as she stood before him with clasped hands: "You have put it right for both Bible and sun. That is the way God tells me this is His book I read it, and it warms my heart and gives me life. I love its light, and no one but God can give such light and warmth through the pages of a book. It must be His. I do not want more telling. That is telling enough, sir. As sure as God is in heaven, so sure is God shining through this book."

The skeptic was abashed. The earnest faith of the young fruit-seller amazed him. He could adroitly insinuate doubts into the minds of those who have only given an intellectual assent to the truth that the Bible is God's book, but the girl's heart experience of the power of God's Word was an evidence he could not shake.—Messiah's Herald.

REVELATIONS.

The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked, as she began to inspect a basket of miscellaneous buttons, "You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds. Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife with a slight smile. "Well, all these buttons were found in the contribution box, and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What—must you go? Well, good-by. Come again soon."—Ladies' Home Journal.

BLAMES VIOLATION OF LAW.

Oklahoma Mine Inspector to Report on Hailyville Disaster.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 4.—Peter Hanratty, chief mine inspector of Oklahoma, has completed an investigation of the mine disaster at Hailyville, in which more than a score of miners were killed, and will make his report to State Labor Commissioner Dougherty this week. It has been learned that the explosion was caused by an employee mistaking petroleum for engine oil and in taking a barrel of petroleum into the mine instead of the non-explosive substance. The accident was not due to alleged willful violation of the law.

Nine mines in the McAlester district have been closed voluntarily until they can make changes enabling them to carry explosives into the mines in "jacks" rather in canisters and by other methods and to enable the mine operators to do their own "propping" as required by law rather than to compel the mine workers to do this as has heretofore been the custom.

GOLD CAMP BURNED.

Rawhide, Nev., Has Destructive Fire, Making Thousands Homeless.

Rawhide, Nev., Sept. 4.—Three thousand people homeless, a score or more injured and a property loss of over $750,000, is the result of a destructive fire which started at 9:05 this morning in Dr. Gardner's office, located in the Rawhide drug company's building. Fanned by a gale, the fire swept rapidly south and east to Balloon Avenue and up Rawhide Avenue to within fifty yards of the People's hospital.

Over a ton and a half of dynamite was used in the demolition of buildings, which in a measure stayed the flames' progress.

The Farm

(From Home and Farm.)

Care of chickens—One of the first and most important things to be done now is to separate all the young fowls and send to market all those that we do not want to keep—males and females—or if we prefer to keep them for the table keep them in a separate pen.

The young males that we want to keep should be put in a pen and kept there until the breeding season begins in the early spring. All old males should be disposed of, and the hens and pullets to be kept for layers should be kept by themselves in yards where there is a good house and plenty of shade.

Provide a scratching shed and see that they use it. Do not feed too much—just enough to keep them in good, healthy condition. Give them oilmeal occasionally and if there is no grass on the lots throw them a few heads of waste cabbage, lettuce of any kind of green stuff that is growing around the place. Watch carefully for mites and keep the house clean. Whitewash, carbolic acid and scalding hot water do much to keep the house in perfect order.

Clean out the old straw from nests and renew after having sprayed the boxes with kerosene and lime.

Sprinkle lime over the floor and on walks, and do not forget to look after the roof and walls of the house.

See that there are no loose boards, and if the roof leaks repair it at once.

Just a little work now will save much worry and loss during the winter.

Life on the Farm.

Life on the farm is a good deal what we make it. It is pretty much that way in the cities and the towns, except we have more freedom on the farm. The happiest days of my life have been on the farm. It is there we breathe the pure air, hear the song of the birds and the bubbling of brooks, and see the blue sky unclouded by smoke. It is there we get acquainted with the noises of nature and enter into her moods. I would rather hear by little cricket tell of the shrill notes of the owl than listen to a description of the efforts of the finest opera singer. There is something in country life that is soothing in its effects. The noises are those of nature and have not the jarring effect on the nerves as those of the city. I am not cranky. There are some things in the city that I admire, and there are many good people living there.

Many of the buildings are masterpieces of art, and the decoration grand beyond description. But everything is in a whirl; everybody chasing the almighty dollar, of seeking their own pleasure. The sign of sin and wickedness are ever present. Wickedness is licensed, and the privilege to sin is sold for so much a year. For real enjoyment the old-fashioned spelling school can knock the socks off of a city hall, where women wear long skirts and low-necked dresses. There was more enjoyment to the square inch of an old-time singing school than there is in a whole block of city amusements.

A country boy can unbutton five buttons, take of his clothes and jump into the water in seventeen seconds by the watch. It would take a city boy longer than that to take off his starched collar. When I see a country boy with nothing on but a straw hat, a shirt or waist, and a pair of pants rolled up to his knees, and an honest look from his clear, bright eye, my heart warms toward him, and I feel a firm and encouraging hope for the future of my country.

The Farmers' State Bank policies are in harmony with the best interests of the poor. When a man of limited means starts a saving account he is absolutely safe.
